CIRCUIT COURT CONVENES TODAY

February Term Opens at Court House in Brownstown for Four Weeks' Session.

NO CASES DISPOSED OF TODAY

Case of Harrod vs. Ballard Set For Trial on Tuesday, March 2.

The February term of the Jackson circuit court opened at the court house in Brownstown. The day was devoted to disposing of several minor matters and arranging the docket for the term. No cases were disposed of today.

The first case set for hearing is that of Harrod vs. Ballard which will come up for trial on Tuesday, March 2. This case was tried at the December term of court at which time the jury that heard the testimony failed to reach a verdict and were dismissed. The plaintiff is seeking to recover damages for the loss of a cow.

Very few new cases have been filed since the close of the December term of court. However, officials say that enough cases were carried over from the last term of court to keep the court busy. Several cases have been pending on the court docket and the court will likely dispose of them during the February term.

Owing to the deplorable condition of the roads between this city and Brownstown making it impossible for the bus line to run, local attorneys will be unable to get to Brownstown before 11 o'clock each morning as no train goes west on the Baltimore & Ohio until 10:20 a. m. Several local attorneys failed to attend the opening of court today owing to the bus being unable to operate. However, it is hoped that the roads will be in better condition in a few days.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT M. E. CHURCH CLOSED

Membership of Congregation Increased by One Hundred During Three Weeks' Revival.

The special services which have been in progress at the First Methodist church during the last three weeks were closed last night. The Rev. Earl Naftzger, who conducted the meeting, returned to Winona, his home today. Approximately one hundred members were added to the church's enrollment during the revival. Splendid services were held Sunday and both Dr. Naftzger and the Rev. Charles W. Whitman, pastor, are well pleased with the result of the meeting.

Dr. Naftzger spoke to an audience of men at the church Sunday afternoon, using as his subject, "The Devil's Menagerie." The address was a strong and earnest appeal for cleaner lives and the speaker was warmly commended for his advice and suggestions. Special musical numbers by Everett Naftzger, who has conducted the singing at the services, was a feature of the afternoon meeting. Mrs. Earl Naftzger, who has been assisting her husband for two weeks, also spoke at a woman's meeting Sunday afternoon.

LAST RITES SAID OVER BODY OF ARCTIC EXPLORER

Vice President Marshall and Secretary Daniels Act as Honorary Pallbearers.

Washington, February 23—While three volleys break from the rifles of a firing squad of blue jackets and United States naval buglers, sound "taps" the body of Rear Admiral Robert Peary, Arctic explorer and discoverer of the North Pole who died here Friday, will be interred in Arlington cemetery today.

Many of the most noted men of the country were to pay homage at the grave. Chaplain Wright of the navy who served with Admiral Peary three years ago at League Island was to conduct the services, both at the Peary home and at the cemetery. Among the honorary pall bearers were Vice President Marshall and Secretary Daniels.

AIRPLANE SCHOOL MAY COME TO CITY

Representative of Multi-Aircraft & Motors Company, Here Looking For Location.

ON DIRECT SOUTHERN ROUTE

From Fifteen to Twenty Airplanes Would Stop at Field Daily, It is Stated.

F. D. Henderson, a special representative of the Multi-Aircraft & Motors Company, of Indianapolis, is in the city in the interest of locating an airplane field and training school in this city. Mr. Henderson will meet with the Rotary club at its regular weekly luncheon Tuesday and will explain his proposition to the members of that organization. He will later take the matter up with the Chamber of Commerce officials. Mr. Henderson is stopping at the New Lynn hotel and will be glad to meet any business men or other persons interested in the proposition.

The company plans to use the local field mostly as a training center and persons desiring to learn to fly will be given an opportunity to do so regardless of whether or not they have had any experience with an airplane. A local man will be employed as manager of the field.

Seymour affords a splendid location for the field and has several splendid sites which would be very satisfactory to the airplane company. The company has taken Seymour into consideration in deciding upon a field, due to its central location between Indianapolis and Louisville and inasmuch as it is on the direct airplane route to New Orleans, Miami and San Antonio. The trails branches at Louisville and takes separate routes to the Southern cities. It is estimated that between fifteen and twenty airplanes would land here each day enroute to northern and southern points.

One airplane will be kept here at all times and more will be provided, if necessary, for training purposes. Many local people who are acquainted with the proposition are anxious to get the field located here. Columbus is trying to get the company to select a site in that city and it is understood that the Chamber of Commerce there has already made an offer to the company in an effort to land the airplane training school. Mr. Henderson, the representative of the company, will be in this city until after Wednesday in the interest of the proposition.

LOCAL FIVE WINS COUNTY TOURNEY

Seymour Quintet Declared to Be Champions by Defeating Crothersville, 76-12.

WINNERS IN THREE GAMES

Shields Players Will Represent County in District Tournament in Bedford.

The county high school basketball tournament came to a close Saturday night when the Seymour quintet easily defeated the Crothersville five, 76-12, in the final game and was thus proclaimed the county champions. The locals won the title in three games, eliminating their first opponent, Vallonia, 67-19, Clear-springs 40-7, then the deciding contest.

The contests attracted much interest and at night the gymnasium was filled. Members of the local team say that the tournament furnished splendid training for the district meet, March 5-6 at Bedford, since it will be necessary to win two or three games in one day to be the victors. It is hoped to make the county tournament an annual event and that the Freetown and Browns-

ALLIES MAY MAKE PEACE WITH RUSSIA

Liberal Press in Great Britain Demanding Restoration of Trade With Soviet Government.

DEFINITE PROPOSAL FILED

Premiers Lloyd and Nitti Agree to Complete Resumption of Relations with Russia.

By United Press
London, February 23—The liberal press today united in a demand for peace with Russia on a ground of expediency.

As the council of premiers resumed its conferences to discuss the Russian situation, peace with the soviet government was brought to the front not only by a petition signed by competent military and civil leaders and reports of new offers from Premier Lenine, but by an insistent demand in the press.

Premiers Lloyd George and Nitti have agreed to complete resumption of commercial relations with Russia. The two premiers, according to the report, feel that commercial relations should be resumed at once because of the European economic situation.

If the soviet government demonstrates its ability to survive, it was believed that diplomatic relations must inevitably follow the resumption of commerce.

It was understood that Premier Millerand, representing France, will accept the proposition of the British and Italian premiers.

The British representative in the recent British-Russian convention in Copenhagen brought a concrete tentative peace proposal from the soviet government when he returned here, it was reported today. The proposal, it was said, will be introduced by the British this week in the council of premiers.

Premier Millerand, accompanied by Vittorio Scialoja, the Italian foreign minister, left Paris for London yesterday. Scialoja, it was said, will represent Italy in conferences on the economic situation.

Premier Alexander Vaida Yoeved, of Rumania, was expected to appear before the council to ask what help may be expected from the allies if Rumania takes the field against the Russian soviet armies. The premier of Poland was expected to submit a similar statement to the council.

Results of last week's deliberations on the Turkish question will be drafted into the treaty of peace with that power, it was understood, contingent upon the approval of Premier Millerand. Under this agreement Greece will receive a portion of the Syrna district and the Gallipoli peninsula, while Italy is granted certain concessions in Asia Minor.

The council will face a great amount of business which has piled up for final disposition. Its conferences probably will last at least a fortnight.

GOVERNOR CALLS G.O.P. CANDIDATES

To Confer Thursday Relative to Calling of Special Session of Legislature.

NEW LAWS HELD NECESSARY

Goodrich Will Endeavor to Confine Discussions of Law Makers to Definite Program.

By United Press
Indianapolis, February 23—Governor James Goodrich today sent formal invitations to all Republican candidates to state offices asking them to meet in his office, following a meeting of the Republican state central committee Thursday afternoon. The object of the meeting is to consider a dozen or more emergency matters to be placed before the proposed session of the legislature.

Immediately following the meeting with the candidates, the Governor will issue letters to all members of the general assembly outlining a program of urgent legislation, it was announced.

From the announcement it was concluded that the Governor and the candidates would discuss needed legislation, decide upon considered necessary and then submit the proposition to the legislators with the request that they act upon nothing except that submitted in the letter. The members will be asked if they think anything ought to be added to or taken from the list.

INVESTIGATION TO BE MADE OF WHISKEY REVOLT

Prosecutor in Iron County, Michigan, Arrests Federal Prohibition Officials.

By United Press

Washington, February 23—Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper today announced he would make a formal request of Attorney General Palmer that he investigate the whiskey revolt in Iron county, Michigan, where the prosecuting attorney arrested prohibition officials who seized homemade wine.

"This is plainly a case in which Attorney General Palmer must act," said Roper. Roper conferred with Federal Prohibition Commissioner Kramer and is getting reports on the "revolt" from prohibition agents in Iron county. Prohibition officials said they would insist that the entire matter be investigated and all officials at fault be punished.

RAILROAD BILL BEFORE SENATE

Advocates of Measure Predict Its Passage Before The Close of Present Week.

LABOR'S OPPOSITION STRONG

Representatives of Unions Confer Relative to Action in Effort to Bring About Defeat.

By United Press
Washington, February 23—Ignorance and malice have grossly misrepresented the provisions and purpose of the Esch-Cummins railroad bill, Senator Cummins told the senate in urging it to pass the measure on which the house took final action Saturday. Cummins replied to criticism of the clause of the bill which guarantees the roads a 5½ per cent. return on their investment and declared he could not understand the assault against the labor section of the measure.

Both of these clauses of the bill have been under fire from the railroad brotherhoods and other labor unions who in a meeting here today are planning to carry their fight on the bill to President Wilson. The union men were expected to ask the President to veto the bill and go ahead with formation of a tribunal to settle present wage disputes irrespective of congressional action.

The President, according to White House officials, today was also drawing up a communication to the union men in reply to their suggestion for an independent wage tribunal which they first made to him ten days ago.

Passage of the bill by the house late Saturday by a margin of 100 votes convinced its backers that the fight was won. In spite of its failure to block the legislation in the house, organized labor was still strongly opposed to it today, showing no signs of yielding in its announcement of its determination to defeat in the next election those congress men who vote in defiance of the wishes of labor.

More than one hundred railroad union leaders from all parts of the United States went into session here today to decide what action shall be taken by the fourteen rail unions to gain their wage demands.

The unions are fighting the bill because of the financial guarantee it gives to the roads and because of provisions it makes for settlement of wage controversies through setting up of a labor court.

"We want the wage controversy taken up by a joint tribunal of rail executives and employees with full power to consider our demands," said President Bert M. Jewell of the railway department, American Federation of Labor.

"If the Esch-Cummins bill becomes a law any decision that such a tribunal might make would automatically be reviewed by the labor court set up in the bill. This might delay the final decision a year."

The rail union conferees today or tomorrow are expected to send a communication to the president urging upon him the joint tribunal method of settling the entire wage controversy. This is the plan proposed to the tribunal ten days ago by the chief executives of the rail unions. The president's plan was to submit the question to the labor court.

MILD RESERVATIONS ARE ADVOCATED BY HOOVER

Former Food Administrator Warns Against Judgment of "Police Court Minds."

By United Press
Baltimore, February 23—Warning against the judgment of "police court minds" Herbert Hoover speaking at John Hopkins University today, called upon Senate factions to ratify the peace treaty on the basis of mild reservationists' proposals.

"It appears to many of us," Hoover said, "that the most practical hope of immediate ratification lies in the lesser reservationists accepting the proposals of the mild reservationists."

ANTI TUBERCULOSIS DRIVE

Trip to Counties to be of Educational Nature.

By United Press

Indianapolis, Feb. 23—The Indiana state board of health, through its secretary, Dr. J. N. Hurty, is preparing literature to be used in the campaign of the anti-tuberculosis division of the board, which is to start about the second week in March. The drive will extend into many counties of the state and will continue until fall, it was announced.

The division, called the "travelling division" by Dr. Hurty, will work mainly through the rural communities. It will be made up of the director of the division, two trained nurses and a chauffeur. The party will travel in an automobile.

The trip is not for the relief of the sick, Dr. Hurty said, but is purely educational. Its object is to teach the public how to live the anti-tuberculosis life.

Concerning Your Eyes

In ALL of the causes leading to eyestrain (which have been taken up in previous talks) the tendency is, if neglected, toward a DISEASED condition of the eyes. DISEASES which glasses will not remedy, not to mention the injurious effect of eyestrain on the health. Neglect of eyes many times leads to surgical operations which glasses worn in time will prevent.

GRAVE DANGER to the eyes also lies in the WRONG LENSES and IMPROPER ADJUSTMENT of mountings.

LOCAL FIVE WINS COUNTY TOURNEY

town teams, the only quintets that did not appear, will enter next year.

The Seymour-Crothersville game was one-sided as were the previous Seymour games. Crothersville immediately started a strictly defensive game and after the locals had registered twenty points, took to the offensive. The remainder of the half was quite interesting but the Crothersville team had made a mistake that could not be corrected. The first half ended 30-5, Seymour leading.

The start of the second half gave all appearances of a very interesting period. After a few minutes play, however, the Seymour five developed team work of mechanical nature and the ball dropped through the basket with ease. Scoring for this period alone amounted to a 44-7 count in favor of Seymour. Niehaus was the star of the game, his floor work predominating although to much credit can be given the local guards, Keach and Deal, who showed up well in throwing goals.

Crothersville has a fast team but the superiority of the S. H. S. quintet was quite noticeable and the visitors realized that they could not win. However, they fought from start to finish and were commended on their splendid spirit.

Summary of the game:
Seymour (76) Crothersville (12)
Keach, f Ritz, f
Niehaus, f Cornan, f
Deal, c Stewart, c
Lewis, g Benham, g
Steinwedel, g Robertson, g
Substitutes—Smith for Steinwedel, Banta for Deal, Butler for Stewart, Moseley for Robertson, Bedel for Benham.

Field goals—Keach 13, Niehaus 11, Deal 9, Lewis 2, Banta 3, Cornan 2.
Foul goals—Ritz 2. Referee, Priest.

The Seymour-Clearspring game was another easy victory for the locals in the semi-finals Saturday afternoon. At no time during the game did the regular five play together. The first half ended 18-5 and at the close of the second half the locals had registered an additional twenty-two points to their opponents' two. The final count was a decisive game for the S. H. S. quintet 40-7.

Summary of the game follows:
Seymour (40) Clearspring (7)
Keach, f L. Spurgeon, f
Banta, f J. Spurgeon, f
Niehaus, c Fisher, c
Lewis, g J. Conner, g
Steinwedel, g Fountain, g
Substitutes—Smith for Keach, Deal for Banta, Bowers for Fisher, R. Conner for J. Spurgeon.

Field goals—Keach 9, Banta 2, Niehaus 6, Lewis 2, Deal, L. Spurgeon, R. Conner 2.
Foul goals—R. Conner. Referee, Priest.

But two games remain on the local schedule, Scottsburg next Friday on the local floor, and Seymour at Jeffersonville Saturday night.

Orland Brock Claimed by Death.

Rene Orland Brock died at his home about 2 miles southeast of Chatsworth early Wednesday morning after an illness of only a few days. Death resulted from pneumonia following an attack of the flu. Mr. Brock first became ill on Friday and became bedfast on Saturday. His case did not seem alarming until pneumonia developed about Monday.

The funeral services for Mr. Brock were held at the home this afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. A. Giese, of the Evangelical church. Owing to the cause of death the funeral was semi-private. The burial was in the Chatsworth cemetery.

Deceased was born at Houston, Indiana, and was 27 years, 11 months and 8 days old. He is survived by his parents, four brothers and five sisters. Two of the brothers, Verda and Walter, reside in this vicinity. He came to this vicinity about seven years ago and on Feb. 4, 1919 was married to Miss Lena Walter.

He was a man of high ideals and of excellent character whose death is a distinct loss to any community.

Mrs. Brock became ill on Sunday with the flu which developed into pneumonia and her condition this morning is reported as extremely critical.—Chatsworth (Ill.) Plaindealer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McColgin of Indianapolis, visited friends in this city Sunday and attended the revival meetings at the First Methodist church.

THE PROPER WAY TO TAKE ASPIRIN

First see that tablets you take are marked with the "Bayer Cross."

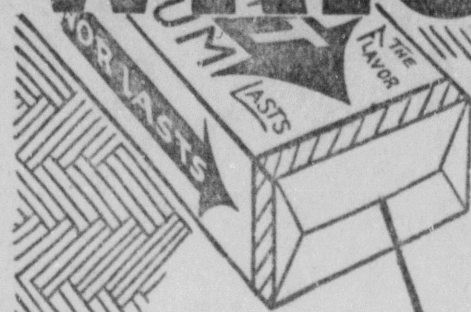

The Bayer Company, who introduced Aspirin tell in their careful directions in each package of genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" that to get best results one or two glasses of water should be drunk after taking tablets.

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" to be genuine must be marked with the safety "Bayer Cross." Then you are getting the world-famous Aspirin, prescribed by physicians for over eighteen years.

Each unbroken "Bayer" package contains proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, and for Pain generally.

Handy tin boxes of twelve tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Sedan, with electric self-starting and lighting system and demountable rims with 3½-inch tires front and rear, for every day in the year has no equal as a family car. Just as popular on the farm as it is in the city. In fact, it fits the family demands in every vocation of life. Large, roomy seats, finely upholstered, plate glass windows make it an open car in pleasant weather, while in rainy and inclement weather it becomes a closed car, dust-proof and rain-proof. It is not only comfortable, but really cozy, and above all, economical in operation and maintenance, and has all the Ford merits of strength and durability.

QUIET OBSERVANCE OF LEGAL HOLIDAY

Tribute Paid to Memory of George Washington in Several Rooms of City Schools.

BANKS CLOSED DURING DAY

Postoffice Observes Holiday Hours With One Delivery of City Mail —Rural Carriers Off Duty.

Washington's birthday, one of the six holidays of which recognition is taken generally throughout the United States, was quietly observed here today. February twenty-second fell on Sunday this year but as is the custom, the Monday following was generally observed. Many people are under the impression that Washington's birthday is made a national holiday by act of congress, but there are in fact no national legal holidays. All holidays are made legal by state statutes, although the President of the United States may by proclamation proclaim the day to be observed. The six holidays which are observed generally throughout the country are New Year's day, Washington's Birthday, Independence day on July 4, Thanksgiving Day on the last Thursday in November, Labor day, first Monday in September, and Christmas day, December 25.

Special attention was paid to Washington's birthday in practically all rooms of the city schools. Honor was paid to the "Father of the Country" in recitations and addresses and Washington's ideals of government and citizenship were emphasized by the teachers. Visitors' day was observed in some of the grades where the programs were presented.

The banks were closed throughout the day.

The postoffice observed the holiday by giving partial service. The rural mail carriers were not on duty and the city postmen made only the morning delivery of mail. The money order department was open from 8 until 10 o'clock this morning and the general delivery window was open from 7:30 to 10 o'clock a. m. and will be open for one hour between 6 and 7 o'clock tonight. All mail was dispatched as usual during the day.

In a number of places special recognition of the day was taken by the American Legion and public meetings were held. At a few places the French memorials to American soldiers who lost their lives in the service were distributed. The local Legion, distributed the majority of the Memorials to the relatives of the heroes Sunday and others will be sent out this week.

REFUGEES TROUBLE HOLLAND

Hundreds Still Interned—Treatment Called Oversevere by the Dutch Press.

Harderwijk, Holland.—Hundreds of men and women of all nationalities, considered undesirable but accorded refuge and hospitality by the Netherlands, are still confined behind barbed wire fences in the big war internment camp here. They still are sources of trouble to the Dutch government. Many of them are war refugees, escaped from Germany or Belgium, and to their number since the war have been added several scores of Russians of bolshevist tendencies, whom the government has confined here for safe-keeping.
The Russians have been particularly troublesome, but the means taken by one of the Dutch military officers in charge of the camp to control their actions are reported in the Dutch press to have been so severe that recently a number of Dutch soldiers are said to have mutinied rather than obey the orders.

"Ghost" Taken Alive From Gotham Chimney

New York.—Occupants of a Ridge street tenement house were almost correct when they reported to the police that groans of a "ghost" had been annoying them for two days. Detectives and firemen dug a hole in a chimney in the house and extracted David Cohen, a pushcart peddler, who said that, business being bad, he had decided to end his life by jumping down the five-story chimney. He was taken to a hospital suffering chiefly from hunger and exhaustion.

NO TRIAL, KAISER THINKS

Former Emperor Too Lethargic to Concentrate Mind on Suggestion That He Surrender.

London.—Former Emperor William of Germany believes he will not be brought to trial by the allies, says the Berlin correspondent of the Daily Mail. Various friendly sources have recently suggested that he surrender to the allies, offering to give the court all information in his power, the correspondent says, but he appears too lethargic to take any steps or even concentrate his mind upon the preparation of notes.

Wild Ducks Pursue Grasshoppers.
Bismarck, N. D.—The invasion of North Dakota by grasshoppers has brought a counter invasion of wild ducks and geese, according to the reports of the game wardens from all over the state. In virtually every section of the state where there is water thousands of ducks and geese are to be found weeks earlier than usual, feeding on grasshoppers. Deer are more plentiful than in former years along the Missouri river bottom, according to reports.

MANY HIGHWAYS AGAIN ARE IN BAD CONDITION

Recent Rains and Thawing Temperature Leave Surface Soft—Metal is Cut Through.

Many of the highways in Jackson county are again in bad condition. The roads were cut up several days ago, but the settled weather a few days last week caused some of the mud to disappear and light traffic was being resumed. The recent rains with continued thawing temperatures, however, have caused the surface to again become soft and in some places the gravel is cut through.

The motor bus line between Seymour and Brownstown which was in service several days last week has been compelled to discontinue service because of the deplorable condition of the roads. The announcement of the company that the bus cannot be operated will result in considerable inconvenience inasmuch as the February term of the Jackson circuit court convened this morning, and travel between Seymour and Brownstown during court term is always heavy.

Road men declare that hundreds of dollars will have to be expended early in the spring to get the highways back in passable condition. Some of the roads have been cut up so badly that they will have to practically rebuild, it is said.

Mrs. Edward Megel Dead.

Elnora M. Megel, wife of Edward Megel, died Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Maschino, near Four Corners. She was born June 21, 1893, making her age 26 years, 8 months and 1 day, at the time of her death. Besides the husband and parents, Mrs. Megel is survived by a son, Edward, 16 months old, two sisters and five brothers.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the St. Joseph church, Four Corners, the Rev. Fr. Hungar, officiating. Burial in the church cemetery.

Agricultural Notes

MORE LEGUMES NEEDED TO AID CROP YIELDS

The backbone of agriculture in Indiana is sufficient legumes on every farm. Clover is king of the legumes, but the acreage in Indiana is very low compared to what it should be, running from only nine-tenths of an acre out of every 100 acres of cultivated crops in one county, to 17 out of every 100 acres in the leading county, according to data recently obtained by W. A. Ostrander, soils and crops specialist on the Purdue University agricultural extension staff. Out of the 92 counties in the state, 26 had less than one acre in every fifteen.

"The most successful farmers of the state recognize that there must be at least one acre in every four in some sort of legumes, if not in clover, then in alfalfa, cowpeas, sweet clover, soybeans, or vetch," said Mr. Ostrander. "There is less clover grown now than before the war and the problem now is, to get back this acreage lost to legumes and with it the needed increase. Seeding of clover this spring must be carefully done, so that a good stand may be obtained. The field should be well drained, soil that is not acid, and plenty of phosphate should be available. These are the three fundamentals, but a liberal application of manure will aid the stand greatly. Where clover has failed, soybeans will make either a good hay or seed crop, or also for hogging down.

More legumes for Indiana must be the watchword, if this state is to maintain its important position in the agricultural world, because only as more legumes are grown can more livestock be kept at a profit, and only by keeping more livestock can soil fertility be most economically maintained.

The American Cow Abroad.

The American cow is keeping company with the American pig in its invasion of the world markets. A statement by The National City Bank of New York a few weeks ago showed that the American pig is rapidly capturing the food markets of the world, and it now appears that the American cow is keeping it company. A further statement by the Bank, covering the world activities of the American cow, shows that nearly a billion pounds of condensed milk were sent out of the United States in 1919 at an export value of about $125,000,000, and that it was distributed to no less than 90 countries, colonies, and islands of the world. The quantity of condensed milk sent out of the country in 1919 is, says the Bank's statement, fifty times as much as in the year preceding the war, and the value nearly one hundred times as much.

This tremendous increase in the exportation of condensed milk now represents an export trade of $125,000,000 a year, against a little over $1,000,000 at the beginning of the war. The phenomenal growth in exportation of this class of merchandise is apparently due in some degree to the taste which Europe acquired for American condensed milk during the war, for the quantity sent to Europe has advanced from 8,362 pounds in 1914 to 99,541,000 in 1916; 384,588,000 in the fiscal year 1918, and over 600,000,000 pounds in the calendar year 1919. To France, which made an intimate acquaintance with this product during the war period, the quantity sent in 1919 is 112,000,000 pounds against 41,000,000 in 1918, and to the United States Kingdom, whose supplies of dairy products formerly drawn from northern Europe have been greatly minimized by recent events, the quantity sent in 1919 is 425,000,000 pounds against 170,000,000 in 1918; 157,000,000 in 1917, and 106,000,000 in 1916.

The tropical world and the Orient have meantime developed a closer acquaintance with the American product which had been consumed in those sections in limited quantities in the past. To Asia as a whole the quantity sent in 1919 is approximately 20,000,000 pounds against about 2,000,000 in the year preceding the war; to Africa 155,000,000 as against 500,000 in the pre-war period, and to South America approximately 15,000,000 pounds against a little less than 1,000,000 in 1914.

One especially interesting feature of the rapid growth of this "war baby" lies in the fact that although its chief development occurred during the war, the "lusty infant" has continued its growth since the termination of hostilities, as the quantity exported in the calendar year 1919 is actually 50 per cent greater than in the calendar year 1918, most of which was a war period.

This product, condensed milk, of which the present output of the factories of the United States is now probably 2,500,000,000 pounds, with a market value of nearly $500,000,000, is a product of the lines of northern States stretching from New York westward to the Pacific Coast, and including especially New York, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Oregon, and Washington. The value of the product exported was not considered by the Government at Washington of sufficient importance to make a record prior to 1910, when the total value of the export was $1,000,000, advancing to $3,000,000 in 1915; $13,000,000 in 1916; $25,000,000 in 1917; $68,000,000 in the fiscal year 1918, and approximately $120,000,000 in the calendar year 1919.

LAFORTE FARMERS CONDUCT SUCCESSFUL SHORT COURSE

The largest farmers' short course ever held in LaPorte county was recently conducted at Michigan City by the farmers of that community in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce and Co. Agt. C. A. Beecher.

The first day of the course, the school children were brought in from the rural districts to the Michigan City High School where they were given instruction in rope-tying and sheep raising. During the noon hour, the domestic science department of the school served lunch to more than 325 boys and girls who had assembled for the instruction. The children were entertained in the afternoon with a moving picture show.

More than 300 farmers attended the farmers' meetings and as a result plans were made to obtain a teacher of agriculture for the county who would also do extension work during the summer. Plans were made for a county cow-testing association and for a membership campaign for the local farm bureau.

NEW BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION ENDORSES CALF CLUB PLANS

The Union District Shorthorn Breeders' Association organized at Liberty has a membership of 26 breeders from Fayette, Union, Wayne and Preble counties, O., according to a report of County Agent M. A. Nye. At a recent meeting, they were unanimously in favor of a Shorthorn Calf Club and have already started a campaign for membership in the organization. Details of the work and the picking of the members of the club will be taken care of in a meeting to be held in the near future.

DAVIESS COUNTY ORCHARD MEN MAKE SPRAYING PLANS

Orchard demonstration work conducted in Daviess county last year created such demand for spray materials that local dealers were unable to fill all orders and in order to prevent this same condition this year, farmers of that community are already making plans for the spring spraying, according to a report of County Agent D. D. Ball.

Fruit growers of the county recently met to discuss the spray schedules and make arrangements for ordering the proper kinds and amounts of material. A committee was appointed to ascertain the amount of material needed and arrange to order it through the local dealers.

Mr. Ball reports that the farmers will use more Bordeaux mixture this year in an effort to get rid of the apple blotch and already about 2,000 pounds of the material have been ordered.

FARMER BUYS YEAR'S SPACE IN NEWSPAPER

A South Dakota farmer recently walked into the office of the Headlight at Big Stone, S. D., and contracted for a certain amount of advertising space for a year.

"I've always got something to sell or trade or else I want to buy something, and I might as well have this space ready for me, as to run down here every time," he told the editor. "I believe regular advertising is what gets results."

There's no good reason why scores of farmers in this neighborhood could not buy yearly space in The Seymour Daily Republican just the same as did this South Dakota farmer. The farmer is a business man and should advertise to promote his business.

FOUNTAIN COUNTY MEN START SOW AND LITTER CLUB

Two Fountain county clubs co-operating with the County Agent and the county club leader have decided to organize and support a sow and litter pig club for Mill Creek Township in that county. One man from each bank has been appointed to buy the 15 bred gilts that will be distributed Feb. 24, the first day of the Farmers' Institute in that community. The township vocational agricultural teacher will have charge of the club work.

Farmers' Movements.

Indiana farmers who are willing to remove to other states in search of lower-priced land cannot be induced to go any considerable distance either north or south of the latitude in which they have lived at home. This is one of the several interesting facts disclosed by a statement just made public by E. A. Strout Farm Agency detailing the movements of the buyers of 3668 farms valued at $17,996,400 sold by that agency during the past twelve months.

With the exception of Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin, the

WINNER OF CARNEGIE MEDAL

Miss Louise Smiley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Smiley of Franklin, Pa., who has been awarded a bronze medal by the Carnegie hero fund for saving the life of Kathryn Annis, aged fourteen, when both were swimming in the Atlantic ocean at Squirrel Island, Me., in 1916. Miss Smiley was only thirteen years old at the time.

statement shows, more farmers went east from Indiana during the period than from any other state in the Central West. Practically all of them moved eastward in an almost perfectly straight line, 23°-locating in New York, eleven in Pennsylvania, nine in Ohio, two in New Jersey and two in Vermont. The only exception to the general rule was made by thirteen Indiana farmers who chose the short journey into Michigan and a few scattering families, who were drawn to Maryland, Virginia and Florida by the warmer climate. Illinois sent 106, Michigan 108 and Ohio 101 farmers into these Eastern states during the twelve months.

FROM HERE AND THERE IN INDIANA

D. D. Ball, Daviess county agent, cooperating with farmers of that county has made arrangements for eleven ear-to-row corn demonstrations and the men who are to conduct the work have already started testing the seed for these plots. The seed for this work will be tested for freedom from disease as well as for germination qualities.

Orange county farmers use about 1,000 tons of fertilizer each year, according to the reports received on an inquiry sent out by County Agent E. W. Frank.

Farmers of Posey county are taking definite steps to organize several pig clubs in that county during the coming year, according to a report of the County Agent.

Shorthorn breeders of Orange county, who are building up pure-bred herds, recently organized the Orleans District Shorthorn Breeders' Association.

The First National and Veederburg State banks of Fountain county recently distributed 21 head of fine pure-bred Jersey cows among 15 farmers of that community.

At least six demonstrations of better agricultural methods will be conducted in Union Township, Clark county, the coming year under the direction of County Agent V. J. Mann, cooperating with the local farmers.

The High Cost of Living.

National labor-union leaders, frantically seeking an alliance with farmers; attorney generals and other national, state and city officials, together with parlor economists and sundry million city folks have the idea that H. C. L. stands for High Cost of Living. They're all wrong. It stands for High Cost of Loading. That's what it means to farmer folks.

And, during the past few months the farmers of America, aroused to a great need, tired of the methods of labor unions and capital profiteers, tired of the senseless efforts to beat down the price of basic food products—which efforts are likely to make prices even higher a year from now—have organized as they were never organized before. They have done it by means of farm bureaus and state and national farm-bureau federations, declares Harry R.

O'Brien, in The Country Gentleman of February 21.

The forty-four hour week will not feed and clothe the world. Short hours and ceaseless demands for higher pay, strikes and lockouts; these mean to the farmer but one thing—loading. And when we add profiteering and the H. C. S.—the High Cost of Spending—we are getting at the causes for excessive prices.

The American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange, the National Farmers' Congress and many other organizations have expressed themselves strongly along these lines and they ignored or declined Mr. Gompers' invitation to meet in conference with labor.

Farmers have a rather high opinion of Mr. Gompers, but they believe that the unions harbor many radicals—or worse—and that a thorough house cleaning is in order. The Chicago Federation of Labor highly indorsed the work of Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman—they left these shores cursing the United States. Able bodied miners walking the streets of Pittsburgh, Kansas, refused coal to the hospital; they denounced as scabs Governor Allen's volunteers who were trying to save a freezing state.

The slump in hog prices cost Iowa farmers alone millions of dollars. Throughout the Corn Belt the story is told of farmers cutting down on the number of sows bred, of hogs and cattle fed. Many observers blame this state of affairs on the H. C. L. agitation, asserts Mr. O'Brien.

"The solution of the problem of cheaper food lies not on the farm but in the city," Dean Vivian, of Ohio State University, told the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce. "The farmer will do his share. But if capital and labor want enough to eat let them show their willingness to cooperate by cutting out large profits and by giving a full day's work for a full day's pay."

The farmers will do their share; they will not strike; but if the show-down comes between them and radical labor—many farm leaders think it is inevitable—the man on the land will not suffer most.

HEATING PLANT IN AUTO BUILDING GOES TO STATE

System Installed in New Structure At The State Fair Grounds.

By United Press

Indianapolis, Feb. 23—The Indianapolis Automobile Trade Association is making the state of Indiana a gift of a heating plant, costing between $25,000 and $30,000, which is being installed in the Manufacturers' building at the state fair grounds. The plant will be in operation by March 1 in order that the building may be comfortable for the Twentieth Automobile Show, March 8 to 13.

When the auto association chose the Manufacturers' building as the permanent home of the semi-annual auto shows there was no heating plant in it. The state board of agriculture could not see its way clear to putting a plant in the building so the auto association agreed to pay enough rent to guarantee the cost of the plant.

The auto show will be the best ever held in Indiana, according to auto men. Dealers were so eager to get space that the requests exceeded the supply of 25,000 square feet. The Manufacturers' building contains 85,000 square feet, all on one floor.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' ROUND-UP TO BE HELD AT PURDUE IN MAY

Corn, Live Stock, Dairy Cattle, Sewing, Baking and Other Judging Contests Arranged.

Lafayette, Feb. 23—The second boys' and girls' club round-up which will attract more than 1,000 successful club members in Indiana, will be held at Purdue University, May 3-7. A program which provides for practically all of the instructional work in the form of contests, or demonstrations, is being arranged. Judging contests with corn, live stock, eggs, dairy cattle, sewing and baking will be arranged and teams representing the various counties in the state will compete. In addition, a debate between a team from Madison county and one from Clinton County, as to the relative merits of the horse and tractor will be featured. Games under the direction of athletic coaches at the University and Military drill for the boys under the direction of the Military officers will be added attractions.

The MAN NOBODY KNEW

By Holworthy Hall

Copyright by Dodd, Mead & Company, Inc.

When, sustained and soothed by that peaceful hour, by the Doctor's trust in his integrity, and by the sedative of a long and untroubled stroll out over the hills to eastward, Hilliard returned to the hotel, the room clerk greeted him with faint superciliousness.

"Somebody's been keeping after you on the telephone all morning," he said loftily. "New York call. Couldn't locate you. And here's some telegrams for you."

There were three of them; at sight of the signature of the first, Hilliard's eyes narrowed.

"Arriving Syracuse 4:15. Please meet me at train and stop all work in the meantime. Imperative.

"HARMON." Hilliard's eyelids fluttered; this was evidently the initial result of Rufus Waring's efforts, and of those many letters he had written Harmon. He tore open the second envelope; the message was again from the broker, sent obviously from the Grand Central terminal just before train-time.

"Most important news received. Am just leaving, having wired you meet me at station 4:15. Find out who Bob Waring is and what he wants. Do all you can to save off further inquiry. Absolutely imperative not talk to anyone until I see you. Have contract and all other data with you. Shall have to leave on short notice."

"HARMON."

And the third was from Albany; "Leave Bob Waring if possible and arrange meeting seven tonight. Urgently imperative."

"HARMON." Hilliard folded the three sheets methodically and put them in his pocket. He glanced at his watch; it showed a quarter to four. He had no dependence on Harmon, and no fear of him; he felt no obligation to Harmon, no sense of duty. To be sure, he had a cynic's curiosity to see what was in the middle of the whirlwind, but that of itself wasn't strong enough to send him to a rendezvous with a man he despised and loathed.

"If I go," he said to himself, "I'll be sorry; and if I don't go . . . why, if I don't go, I'll always wonder if it would have done any good!"

For himself, there was nothing promising in the situation. But on the millionth chance that something of benefit to his subscribers might come out of it—on the millionth chance that Harmon might be frightened or persuaded into compromise—

So he went.

INDIGESTION Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloating after eating, food repeating, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are, nevertheless, traceable to an acid stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, dizziness of the head, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental miseries that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with intestinal indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pains in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise. Your druggist has EATONIC. Get a big 50c box from him today. He will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

(FOR YOUR ACID-STOMACH)

The very first passenger to reach the platform was Harmon; indeed, he had been fretting in the vestibule for half an hour, intent on saving a useless fraction of a second when the train stopped. At sight of Hilliard, he beamed beneficently—all his earlier belligerence forgotten.

"Hello!" he said. "Glad to see you, son. Got all my messages, did you?"

He shook hands with great urbanity; Hilliard's grasp was hardly responsive.

"I got three," said Hilliard, dignified and noncommittal; and he continued to inspect his employer with ill-concealed disfavor and distrust.

"Well, that's all I sent. Now, where can we go sit down and talk, for a couple of hours? There's a lot to go over, but I want to take the 9:40 West. Not to the Onondaga—I'd rather go somewhere quieter. How about the Kirk?"

"Suits me all right if it does you."

"Any luggage?" They were crossing the tracks to the waiting-room; and Hilliard, in spite of himself, couldn't refrain from the solicitude which any right-minded resident of a city feels for the transient just arrived.

"Only this Gladstone. I can check that here, I guess. Well, I'm certainly glad to see you. Say, were you able to make a date with this Waring person? It was pretty short notice, but you're such a live wire—"

Hilliard, fully comprehending the nature of the compliment, smiled faintly. The person of the broker was physically repulsive to him; unconsciously he edged further away.

"Not yet. But I've left word at his house for him to call me at the hotel, and I'll telephone to the information clerk from the Kirk where he can reach me. He's sure to be in around five or half past."

"I hope so," Harmon swung his heavy bag to the brass-lined counter, and tossed out a dime with a philanthropic gesture which made the attendant glare at him. "Who in thunder is he, anyhow?"

Hilliard had reason to be reticent with his facts, and he preferred not to be too specific at the outset.

"He's a law student—an old friend of the Cullens. He's looking after some of their interests, in one way and another."

"Oh! Working up a practice! Well! the way he's bombarding me with fresh letters, you'd think he was on a congressional investigating committee! Say! There's one thing I'd like to find out—how'd he know I'm in the thing?"

"You didn't tell anybody, did you? Our agreement—"

Hilliard was guiding him to the street.

"Why, he probably got hold of your name when he wrote to some law correspondents of his in Butte about the property; and they looked it up for him. I'd judge they must have gone into it rather thoroughly."

"They did! Humph!" The broker's tone held less of rancor and more disappointment than Hilliard would have expected. "And they made an unfavorable report on it, did they?"

"Unfortunately, for you, they did . . . as you very well know."

Harmon turned on him sharply.

"What do you mean 'unfortunately for me'?"

Hilliard turned into a wide doorway.

"We go in here . . . Why, it puts the quietus on any last hope of yours that there's still some business to be done in Syracuse, doesn't it? I should think that's about as plain as day, light."

"So He's Been Giving Out a Pretty Bad Story, Has He?"

Harmon's brows went up.

"Wh-a-t?" he said, and then, promptly. "Oh, yes—of course. But you've been such a live wire from start to finish, I thought the harder the proposition, the better you'd—"

"Oh, don't make me wish I hadn't taken the trouble to meet you!" snapped Hilliard. He slipped into the first unoccupied booth; Harmon followed him stupidly. "The thing's done for, and you know it. Don't act so innocent. Mr. Harmon—it isn't becoming to you, and it isn't helpful to me. We are in a position to talk English. I should imagine."

Harmon's eyes were very small and bright.

"What's he been saying around here?"

"Saying it's a fake promotion. What else would he say? He's quite intelligent. That's why it's unfortunate for you, and that's why we don't need to fool ourselves any further— isn't it?"

As Harmon removed his hat, he appeared to be somewhat warmer than the temperature warranted. His round face was now preternaturally blank; but his urbanity had increased until he was on the verge of fawning.

"So he's been giving out a pretty bad story, has he?"

"Only the bare facts. And if you don't know it already, I'll tell you that he's got a representative out there on the ground, so that—"

Harmon bit his lip. "A representative? When did that happen?"

"Nearly a week ago. It's about time to hear from him, and then the goose will be cooked."

The broker reflected diligently.

"Haven't seen him today, have you?"

"No; not for nearly a week."

Harmon sat back, and massaged his forehead absent-mindedly.

"Well—has this made much difference to you?"

"How could it help it?" Hilliard grimaced. "This isn't New York city, or a deaf and dumb asylum. News doesn't have to travel fast to make the rounds. Everybody who's ever heard my name knows it by this time."

Harmon leaned forward on his elbows, and drew a quick, nervous breath. His eyes, now slightly dilated, sought for Hilliard's, found them, darted away again.

"That's tough . . . mighty tough . . . I . . . I came up here thinking I might do something about it. Save the situation, you know. Too late, is it?"

"A good deal too late."

Harmon exhaled lengthily, and fumbled for his invariable cigarette; Hilliard observed, without particular deduction, that his hands lacked certainty.

"That does sort of burst the bubble, doesn't it? Well . . . I suppose the next step you want to take is to get out of town."

"No," said Hilliard, "I'll stay till it's over with."

Harmon gasped.

"Stay? Stay here after the news

"I hardly think you'd understand what I'm saying for, Mr. Harmon."

The fat broker shook his head in vigorous protest.

Harmon inspected him carefully and seemed to be struck with an inspiration.

"I'm not sure of it, at that. Look here now! I've got an idea! Let's try to get some benefit out of it. Suppose you got clear of this mess. Suppose we straighten it out from top to bottom. Everybody satisfied. Suppose you got out of it absolutely clean; do you think you could take your experience and your front and your energy and cash in on some better business?"

Can you imagine a first class shave for a nickel, a hair cut for a dime and a massage, shampoo, and all the trimmings in proportion?
It's almost luxurious, and now that the electric potato peelers have come in, Jack finds himself with a lot more time to improve himself. He doesn't need to wash his own clothes any more either, an electric laundry will take care of them at a price which is almost ridiculous.
This view of the busy barber shop on board one of the U. S. dreadnaughts will give us all some idea of the way the men in the Navy live. Only the best is good enough for our sailors.

To Hunt Tax Dodgers.

Washington, February 23—An appropriation to finance a one billion dollar drive on tax dodgers has been asked of congress in Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper, it was learned today. This amount, Roper informed the house appropriations committee, can be brought into the treasury, if congress will allow sufficient fund for a thorough audit of all tax returns.

PROHIBITION REVOLT IS UNTRUE, PROSECUTOR SAYS

Iron County, Michigan, Official Calls For Investigation of "Fake Stories."

By United Press
Iron, River, Mich., February 23—County Attorney McDonough of Iron county, wired the attorney general of Michigan and Attorney General Palmer today, demanding "full and complete investigation of the 'fake stories' regarding a prohibition revolt there.

McDonough said the reports of a prohibition revolt were absolutely without foundation. Advised that Major Dalrymple, chief prohibition enforcement agent, planned to leave Chicago tonight with a force of agents to "clean up" alleged illegal liquor traffic in Iron county, McDonough said the move would be foolish.

"We are having no trouble with the liquor traffic in Iron county," McDonough declared. "We have made arrests and prosecutions and are making every effort to fulfill every provision of the Volstead act. "This man Grove came here presenting himself as federal prohibition agent, but he had no credentials. He arrested three men and confiscated eleven barrels of wine they had made from grapes. I demanded that Grove produce his credentials, but he could show us nothing. I ordered the three men released and took charge of the wine myself. I will gladly turn it over to any bona fide representative of the government. So far as I can learn the three men arrested have not violated the prohibition law; if they have we will find it out and aid in prosecuting them.

"What I want to know now is who started the fake report of a 'revolt in Iron county' and I propose to know. We are going to run this thing to the bottom. We will not oppose the government, but will aid in every way possible."

Limerick's Claims to Fame.

Limerick has been linked up with other things besides verses and medical conquest. Limerick laces were at one time renowned, until they were so widely copied that their originality was lost. Today Limerick is famous chiefly for bacon and pretty girls. The natives claim the very prettiest Irish girls grow up in Limerick. As for the bacon, 350,000 pigs are killed in the town yearly, and yet pigs swarm in its streets, yards and houses. Limerick bacon and ham seldom reach the American table, but throughout the British Isles they are regarded as the best in the world.

Plants Sweeter Than Sugar.

Several ounces of dried leaves and a small quantity of seed of a wild plant that is about 180 times as sweet as sugar reached Washington, from Paraguay. It is called kaa lee, and its botanical name is stevia rebaudiana. Another strange plant is the agbayun (Synsopatum dulciferum) of southern Nigeria, the fruits of which are only slightly sweet, but have the peculiar property of making the sourest substances, such as limes, lemons, unripe fruits, or vinegar, eaten within 12 hours or so afterward, seem intensely sweet.

Government jobs for honorably discharged soldiers and sailors as stenographers and typists are ready for all those who are willing to work in Washington, D. C., according to a recent announcement made by Lieut. Colonel Mathew C. Smith, of the office of the assistant to the Secretary of war. Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the secretary of the local board of civil service examiners at the post office.
